

Columbia, SC (July 11, 2018) - The Institute for Divorce Financial Analysts™ (IDFA™) is pleased to announce that Stephanie Y. Vokral, managing principal of Critical Transitions Wealth Advisors in Columbia, SC recently completed a specialized educational program in professional divorce analysis and is now a Certified Divorce Financial Analyst® (CDFA®).

Stephanie is trained to provide financial information and assistance to people going through a divorce. She evaluates the tax implications of dividing property and the financial impact of various settlement options for dividing marital property (including pensions) and child and spousal support payments.

“At Critical Transitions Wealth Advisors, we help determine the short-term and long-term financial impact of a proposed divorce settlement to make sure it works now as well as down the road,” says Stephanie Vokral (CFP® Practitioner, CDFAs® Practitioner). “We examine and analyze the financial issues of a divorce, providing our clients and their attorneys with data to help strengthen their case. We help our clients avoid the common financial pitfalls of divorce by offering valuable insight into the pros and cons of different settlement proposals.”

IDFA™ trains financial planners, accountants, and attorneys to determine the financial needs and outcomes for couples after divorce. Founded in 1993, IDFA™ currently has more than 2,000 CDFAs across the United States and Canada.
